

I just wanted to share my thoughts everyone is worried about what kids will see on tv or what will be said that should be the last thing on a parents mind, they should first monitor what their kids are watching and they wouldn't have to make such complaints. Parents today should worry about what their kids are doing in school and after school and we would not have kids using violence when they get punished. The society we live in today has set up laws to protect kids and kids know it and there using that violence and laws against their parents to get their way. What ever happen to the days when parents put the fear of god in you and you wouldn't think about doing the things that kids today are doing its not the tv thats making children do what they do its the lack of parents and todays laws.
